Incremental Model

Step 1
- Create a class for a user and create classes for students, instructors, and admins with their properties and methods specific to each class.

Step 2
- Create a database for student and for instructor to store number of classes student is taking and number of classes instructor is teaching.

Step 3
- Create a user interface (LeopardWeb). You can register available classes, once it is done it should be saved in the database.